

EAL – In my garden

by EAL, 17-Aug-20 08:58 AM GMT

What do I know:

The joy of watching a brimstone enjoying the wild sweet-pea flowers

The moths that believe they display perfect camouflage.

Rescuing the lost who find their way into the greenhouses.

The cabbage whites vying with bumble bees for the pick of the lavender.

Nice start, EAL. I doubt I've ever seen more than a dozen mating pairs of Hedge Browns/Gatekeepers in my life so well done for capturing that.
